FOREWORD

"WE REMEMBER" is our theme of the 1967 edition of the "Ram." We have tried to capture some of the memorable and interesting events of our school life and place them between the covers of this book.

Our sincere wish is that this book will provide you with many happy memories as you leaf through it and reminisce.

The seniors hope that they have created an image which reflects their appreciation for all of the advantages and opportunities which they have enjoyed.

CONTENTS

School Board Members are: Donald Decker, John Halquist, Charles Griffin, Mrs. Mary Carlson, and Richard Pistner. Absent from the picture is Paul Calkins.

School Board Officers are: William Logue, Secretary; Arthur Bennett, President; Jack Rosenhoover, Treasurer.

Citizens choose their school directors from various walks of life to run the schools efficiently and economically.

At present, the board is planning a new elementary building to house all of the younger students of the area in a single building. This consolidation of facilities will provide an enriched curriculum for the youngsters.

GORDON DAVIES
SUPERINTENDENT

The public school has taken its place along with the home and the church as one of the three great agencies at society's disposal for the inculcation in children and youth of the duties and responsibilities of democratic citizenship.

We, the faculty of Johnsonburg Area Schools, hope we have instilled these duties and responsibilities into each of our graduates so they will always be some of the better citizens of our community and nation.

Gordon Davies
Superintendent

Albert W. Peters ALBERT W. PETERS, PRINCIPAL

The problems and difficulties of this past year have been met successfully through the experience and wealth of understanding of the administration and faculty members. We have been able to meet this task and bring the term to a successful close. To the Senior Class, we wish to express thanks for the fine cooperative spirit shown through this year. Without complaint they did everything in their power to help their administrative leaders and faculty in every way. It is my hope that they will retain this spirit in the future and thus gain a place in the world.

Let's just sit and relax a minute, Mr. Funair.

Stay with your group, Sharon and Denny.

Bill Repko and Danny Miller demonstrate the only way to close a hard day.

It's that time—each to his own thoughts.

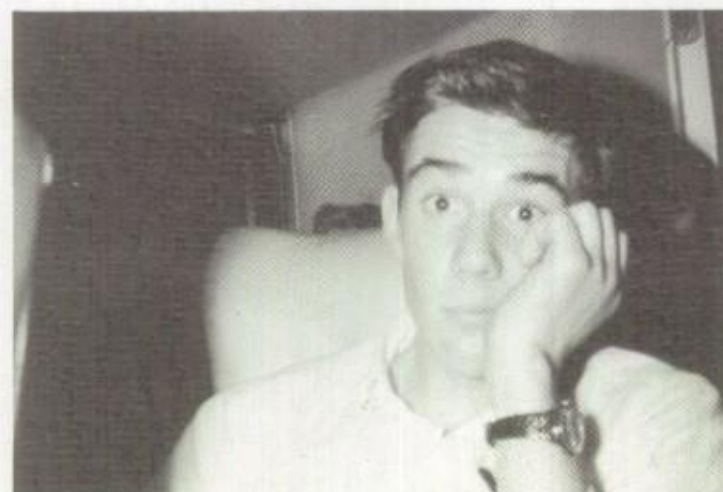

Laugh and the world laughs with you.

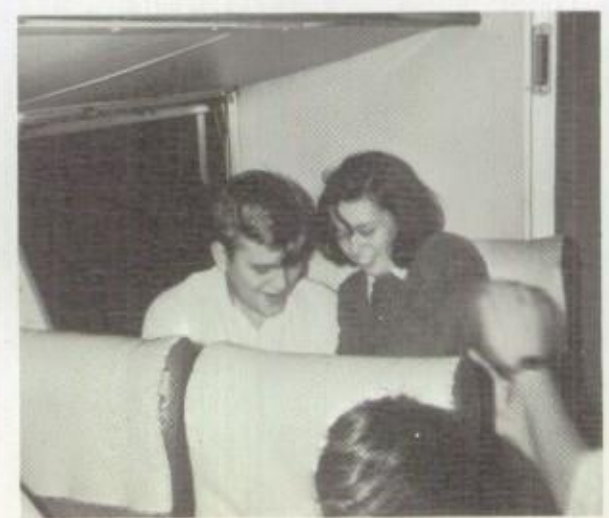

Cheryl and Kathy's flat hats, Pat's hairdo, and Joyce's expression make a picture we had to have.

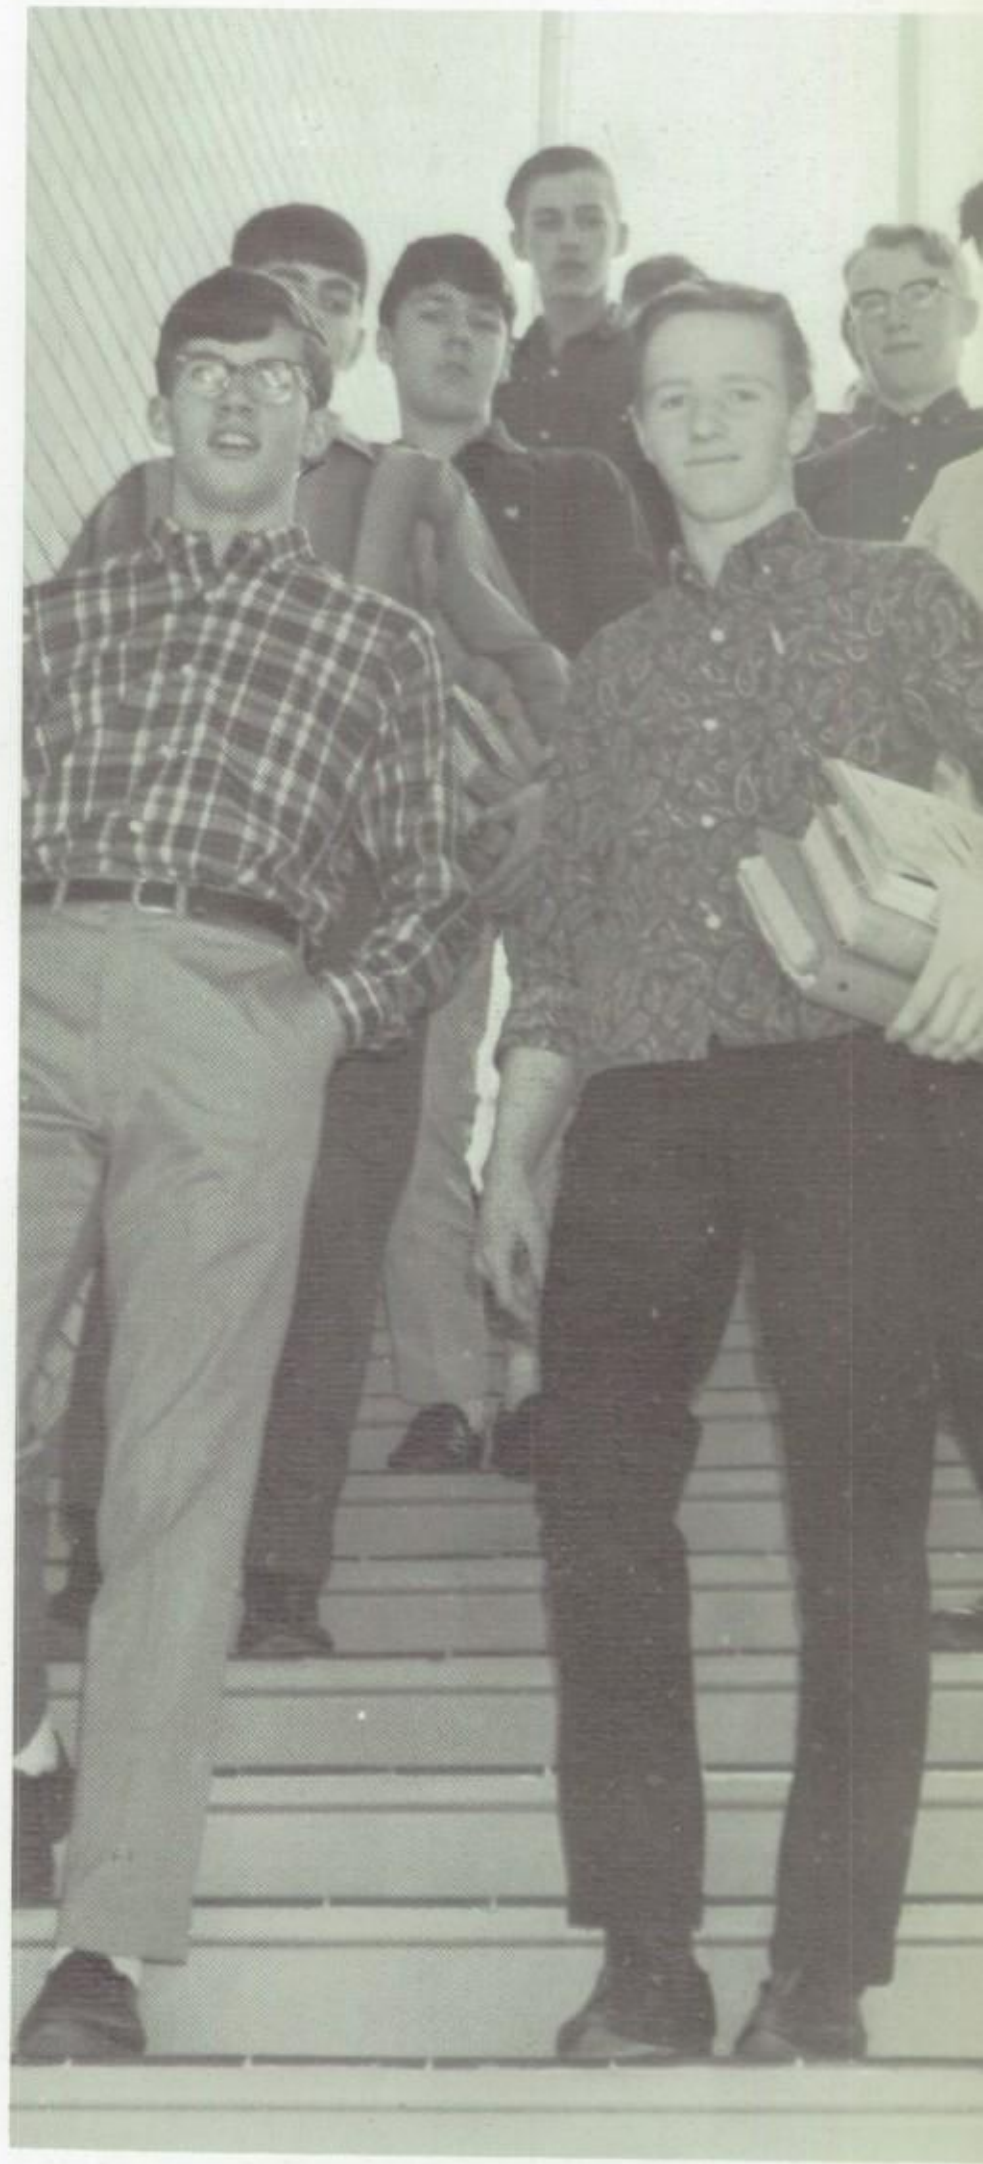

Jerry worries—what can one do with a woman like that!

Something bothering you, Harry?

ACTIVITY

ACTIVITIES

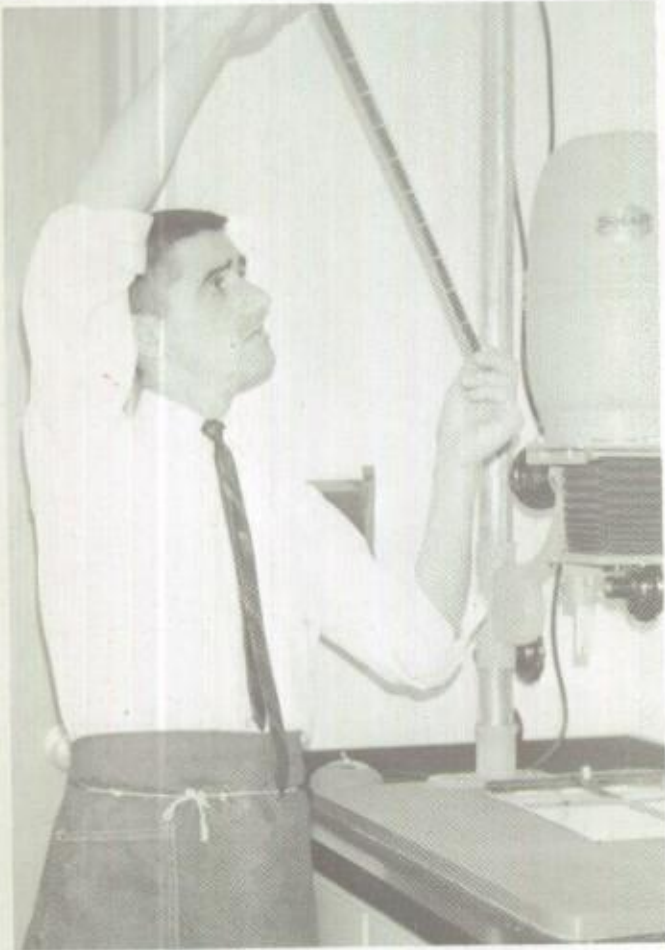

Room 102 fairly hums with activity on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings.

Editors, staff members, and advisors strive feverishly to record the memories of the school year. Photographers snap special events and important happenings on the spot. Various school activities produce action shots which require captions that test the most vivid imagination.

Rejected assignments must be done over, and captions require re-writing and approval after corrections have been made. The completed layouts are sent to the publishing company while the year-book staff awaits breathlessly "The Ram", 1967.

The editors and advisors, Mr. Gustafson, L. Stahli, S. Swanson, C. Deibler, Mrs. Hau, and M. Shaffer, in an agreeable moment.

Mr. Casciani can always be depended upon for those extra-special pictures and last-minute snapshots.

The seniors who have a year of hard work behind them and can take rejected assignments in stride are: R. Stahli, P. Preshak, K. Frank, C. Wachob, and J. Zimmerman.

"Puzzling", is the word often used by Carol, Gail, Sandy, and Mary.

We have had the Ram-Page in our school for the last four years. Few subscribers realize the time and preparation that is needed for the publishing of the paper.

Mr. Chalot, meets with the staff on Monday mornings and starts the paper rolling. All of the news is gathered and then typed into forty-space columns, proofread, retyped, mimeographed, assembled, stapled, and recounted under the supervision of Mr. Taylor and Mrs. Smith.

Then with a sigh, the Ram-Page is on sale and the work is done.

Production Editor: B. McAlee, Staff: I. O'Rourke, J. Vanatta, R. Stahli, J. Burns, C. Liscinski, S. Hodgdon, K. Maletto, L. Field, C. Wachob, R. Zawatski.

THE RAMPAGE

Mr. Taylor has found something amusing and points it out to Mrs. Smith and Mr. Chalot.

Messy job these stencils: but the results are rewarding.

Editors find fun and amusement when reading finished copy of Ram-Page.

Hard work and patience are the key words of these people with socializing thrown in.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Initiation demands a price!

Betty passes on the eternal light of knowledge to the new members.

The National Honor Society was founded to promote Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character. The faculty members select ten percent of the class in the junior year and five percent in the senior year with these ideals in mind. Being a member of this group is one of the highest achievements a student can attain.

The Johisco Chapter of the N. H. S., sponsored by Mrs. Lynn Graebner, held a computer dance in March.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club, started this year by Mr. Dostal, has created considerable interest. The game requires deep thought and concentration. Enthusiasm is reflected in the members' faces as they try to outwit each other.

BYE BYE

PRACTICE

A FEW LITTLE INCIDENTS THE STAFF WILL NEVER FORGET

During the play Conrad sat on a platform and it collapsed.

Mary Mills fainted and the courthouse fell down.

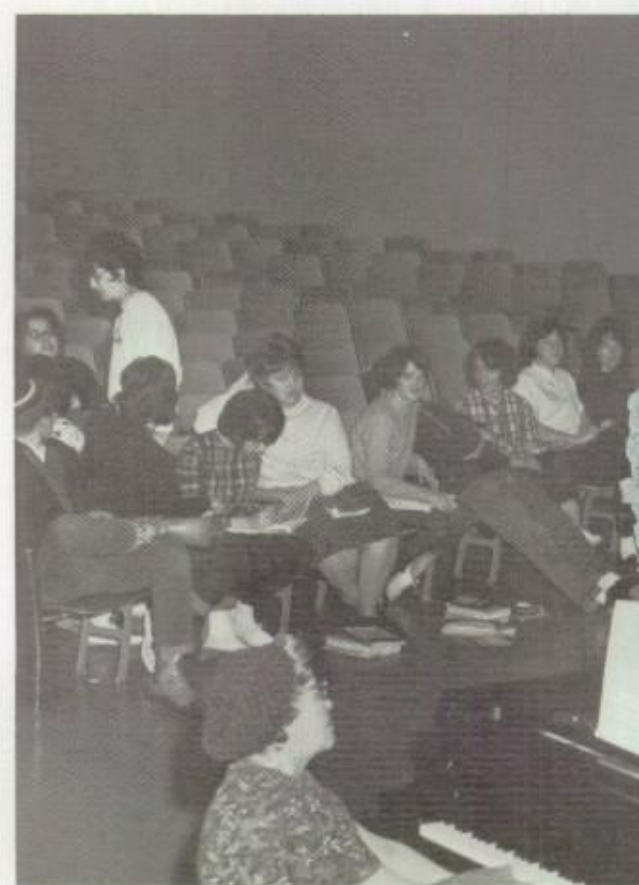

Did the audience notice that there was no telephone but there was one ringing?

Harold Fiscus bumped into the bar while portraying the bartender and it fell over.

Imagine Patty Preshak's embarrassment when she found she was acting on stage as well as off stage when they forgot to close the curtain.

Did the audience notice the strange noises coming from the backstage? It was just Kenny Shaffer and his Mickey Mouse phone.

And last but not least the staff will never forget the rushing backstage for the lemon juice.

VERSION

Mary and Marie try their best to beautify Cheryl.

Here are their results. What do you think of their efforts?

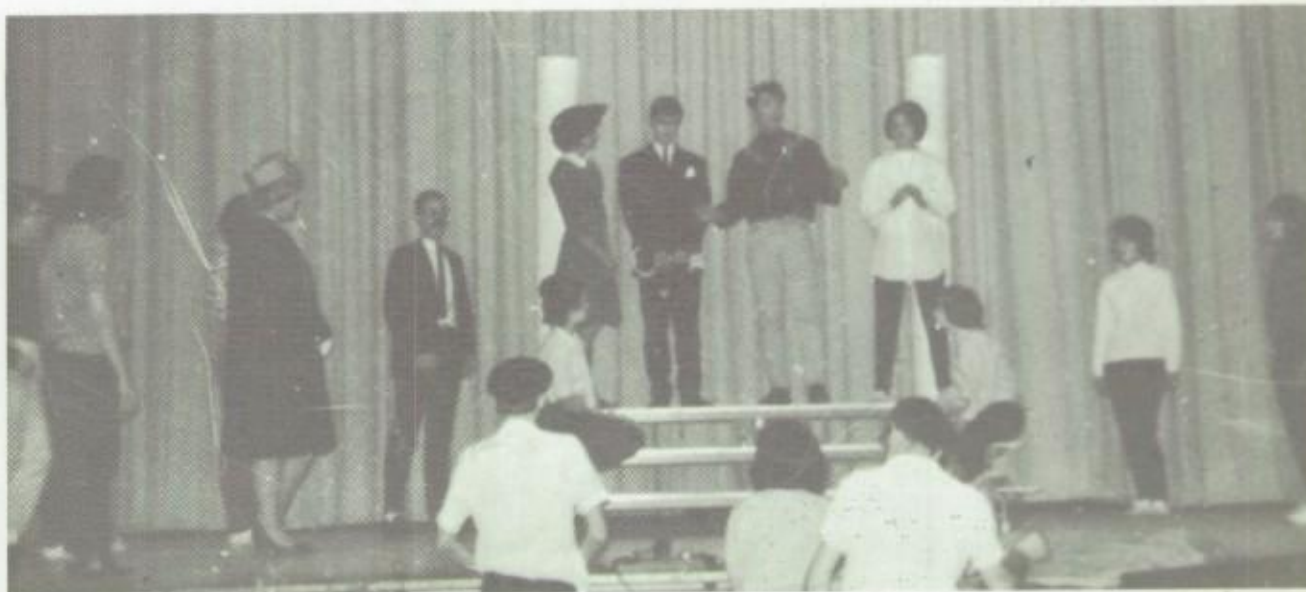

John and Patty, stars of the play.

Conrad Birdie and his many admiring fans.

PERFECTION

Beginning a wonderful evening with prayer.

PROM 1966

1965 King and Queen, Kurt Johnson and Phyllis Haight crowned 1966 King and Queen, Walter Fitch and Margaret Harriger.

Bronny points to drooping ceiling as Carl, Patty, Cindy, Bill and Tim look for a solution to the problem.

Starchy string and colored balloons were messy but proved to be very effective as floating fish. Connie, Judy, Edna, Raffaella, and Darla worked on this project.

STAIRWAY TO THE SEA

We remember May 13, 1966, the Junior Prom, "Stairway to the Sea."

The Juniors had a great time making fish out of colored balloons and starchy string—who cared about sticky fingers. Painting seashells was another fun-filled project especially when paint glitter spilled over the floor. The ceiling decorators had a real job trying to steady the wobbly ladder; they didn't succeed for a fifty-foot roll of crepe paper skidded the entire length of the room.

The students' efforts coupled with squeals and shouts of laughter turned a hectic atmosphere into a "Super-Prom."

Creativity at work—imagine turning this box into a sea-shell. Mrs. Smith on the ladder.

Fun was the key word at decorating for our prom, especially when someone dropped a roll of crepe paper.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

FIRST ROW: Pres. W. Fitch, Tres. J. Haight, Sec. C. Marasco, Head Cheerleader L. Funair, Vice Pres. G. Cooney, Advisors: Mr. Shesman, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Vilfella.

The purpose of the A.A. is to encourage more student participation and enthusiasm in sports activities. The association awards letters and jackets to the well-deserving sport participant, determines the price of admission to all athletic games and prepares the sports schedules.

Tickets please!

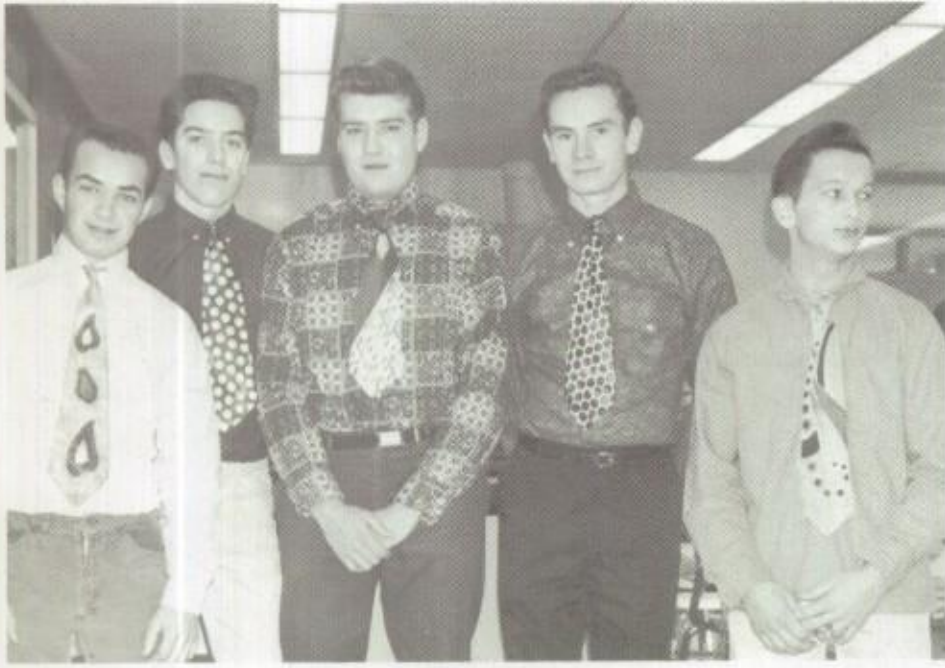

Two reliable ticket takers at home football games were B. McAlee and R. Dominelli.

Those responsible for taking tickets at home basketball games were: M. Neubert, R. Roberts C. Wildnauer, C. Deibler.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

RIDGWAY PEP RALLY

The Seniors took first with their trial scene of Elker suspects accused of drugging the Rams drinking water. It was climaxed with Roger Ram-Jet adding one of his energy pills to the water.

Sophomores placed third with their humorous skit about a mad scientist and the Ram coach who had lost some of his star players.

The Freshman received last but not the least of recognition for their skit about the devil and the Elker coach which ended, naturally, with a Ram victory.

Students sign up for the bus, Lola and Susie in charge.

Fall finds the school "dressed up" with signs and banners expressing the feelings of the cheerleaders and the students. Pep rallies and speeches provide a chance for the students to meet and hear their players. The girls lead the students in cheering their team to victory. Win or lose, the cheerleaders and the students always back up the Rams.

Junior High Cheerleaders: C. Grumley, Captain J. Thorwart, K. Manno, J. Jacobs, L. Bush, C. Graebner.

SLIDE RULE

Mr. Tile's slide rule class works diligently to improve their skill.

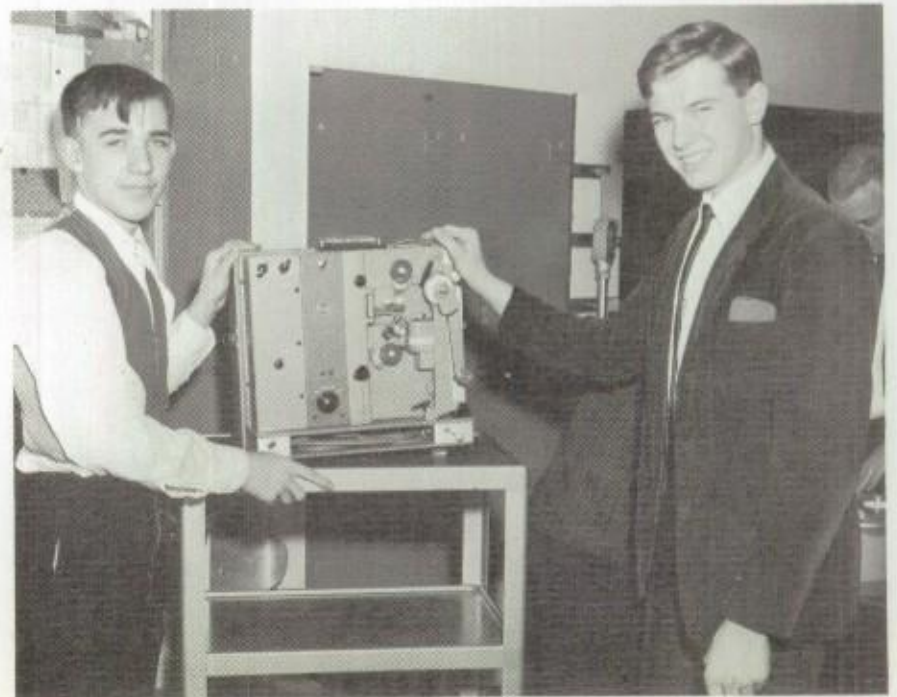

Two classes a week are instructed by Mr. Tile who teaches his club the different operations that can be performed on the slide rule. By learning the use of the slide rule, many students have found it saves much time in solving problems.

VISUAL AIDS

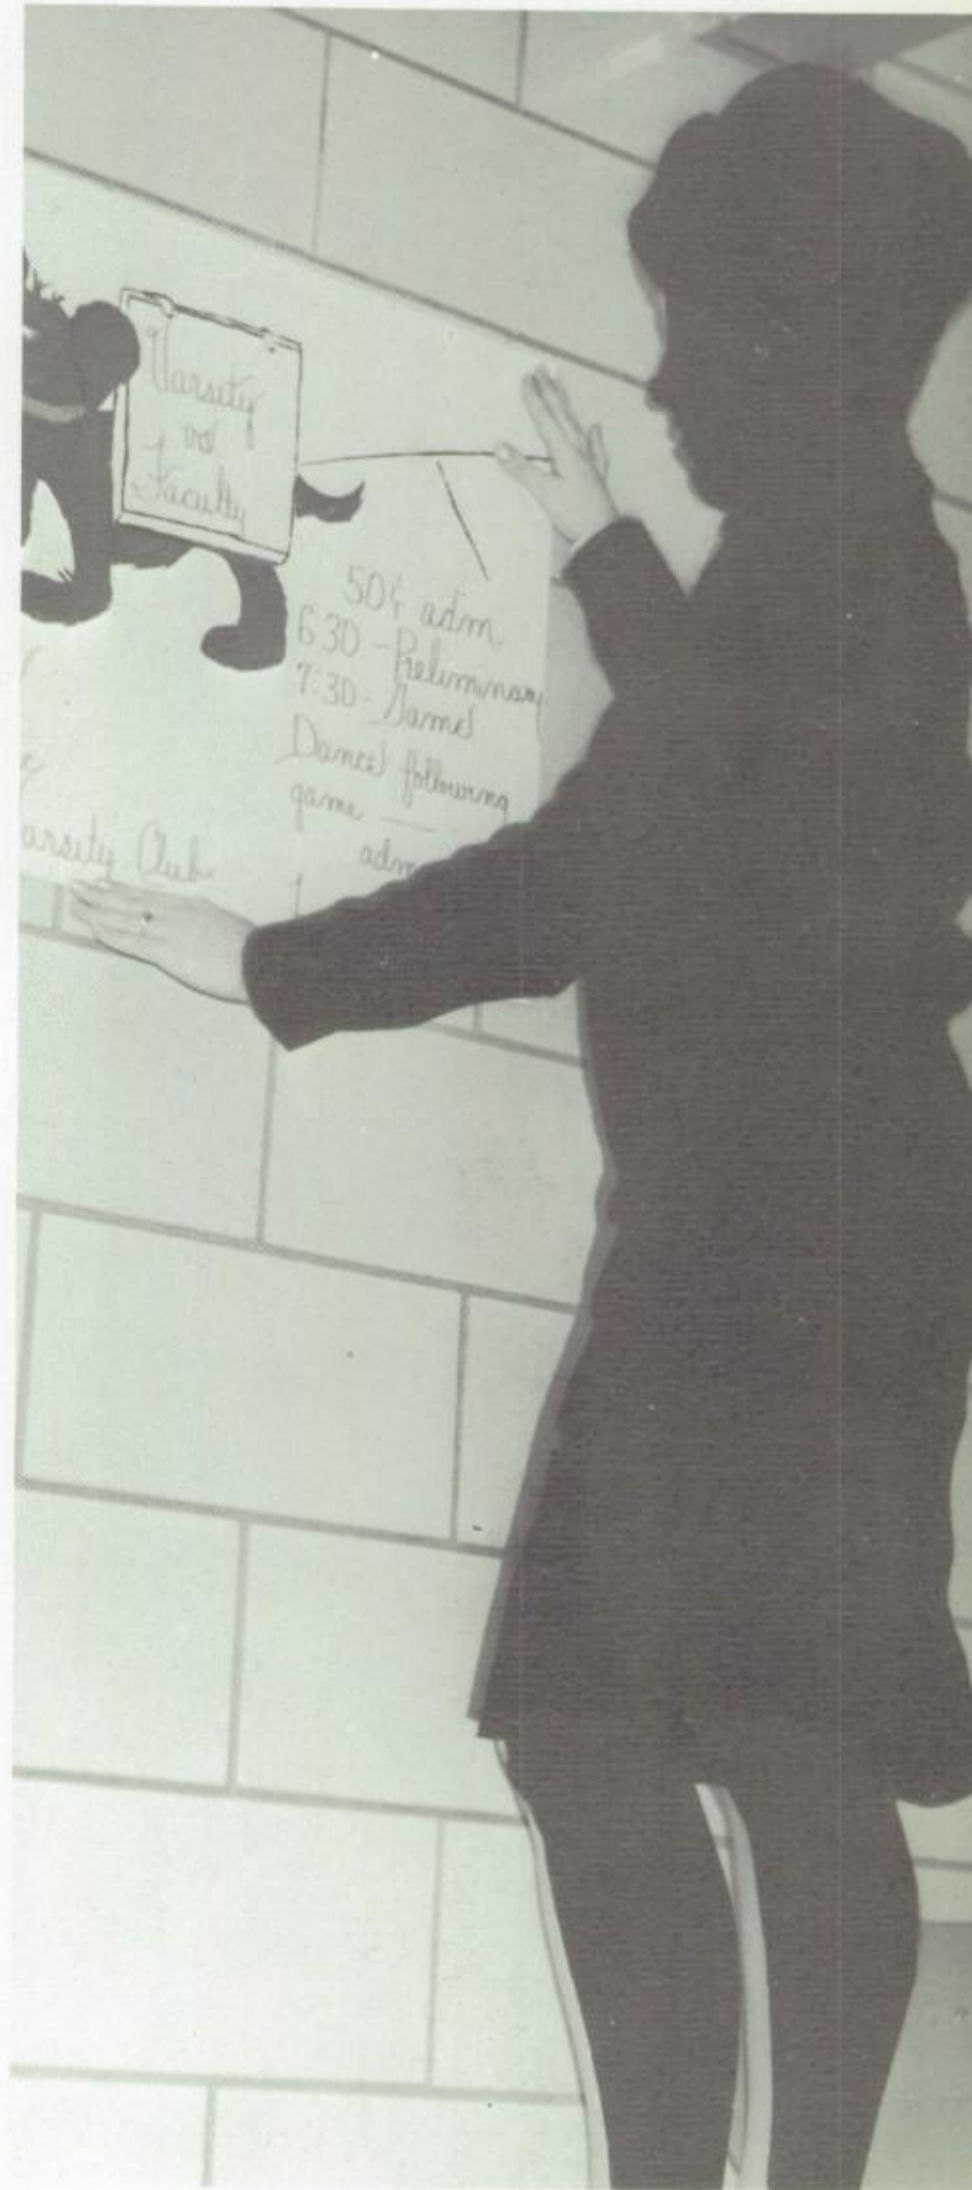

Mr. Mahoney demonstrates the use of a tape recorder to Mike Cherry and Steve Walters.

Under the supervision of Mr. Mahoney the Visual Aids club helps to reinforce the learning of our students. Among other things the members are taught to operate the projectors for our visual aid and assembly programs.

Brent Lehman and Blair Anderson brush up on the operation of a movie projector.

SPORTS

SHAWNA SWANSON

One of the social events of the 1966 football season was the annual football crowning, which was held on September 9, at the Burg-Bradford game.

Sharon Swanson, Johnsonburg High's seventeenth football queen, was crowned by Diane Warmbrodt, 1965 football queen.

Sharon's attendants were Barbara Olewinski, Michele Morgan, Kathy Frank and JoJo Bevacqua.

Her crown-bearer was Shawna Swanson.

Mr. William Shesman, the Ram's coach, led our team to a winning season. Although not all of the games were victories, the Rams proved to be a hard team to beat. A fitting climax to the season was the traditional clash with the Ridgway Elkers. How sweet it was—18 to 6!

At the All-Sports Banquet the following awards were given:

Gary Egger—Best Defensive Lineman
Walter Fitch—Best Offensive Lineman
George Cooney—Best Defensive Back

Hi Robbee, I have the privilege of signing this first. I'm really thrilled. Best of luck to you in all the high school years ahead of you,
 you'll need it, believe me.
 Best wishes when you move to Erie. I hope you like the town and make lots of friends. Good luck with your braces, I know what you're suffering. If you ever get back to Burg come and see me if I'm home. Remember me always,
 Renee

Hi Robbee,
 Best of luck to a real sweet kid. Good luck where ever you go.
 Take it easy on the girls when ever you go. Remember me when could you forget, I'll never forget you

A. J. A.
